

BONDS NECESSARY FOR CITY RELIEF, SAY COMMISSIONERS

Members of Finance Committee Agree With Stand Taken by Chairman W. G. Humphrey as to Improvements.

INCOME NOT SUFFICIENT TO KEEP UP WITH NEEDS

City Cannot Hope to Cope With Present Situation on the Meager Revenue, Says Candler—Position of the Mayor.

Solution of Atlanta's present financial problem lies in the issuance of not less than $5,000,000 in bonds, say the members of the finance committee for 1914 are unanimous in the opinion that the city has reached a point in its natural development where it is obliged to either increase the tax rate or issue bonds.

Woodward's Position. Mayor Woodward opposes a bond issue solely because he does not believe the last issue of $1,000,000 was judiciously spent. He takes the position that the people share with him that opinion, and he stands reluctant to approve an issue until the general council takes some action which will assure the people that the money will be wisely spent in the event it is voted.

Atlanta Chairman Humphrey said that he would rather see the city's proposition in my annual message when I urged the appointment of a commission of business men to make an inquiry into the needs of the city as regards school improvements than believe that if such a move is made it will help restore the city to its former position. He said that he would rather see the city's proposition in my annual message when I urged the appointment of a commission of business men to make an inquiry into the needs of the city as regards school improvements than believe that if such a move is made it will help restore the city to its former position.

Only Solution of Problem. "The city can do business no longer on its current income," Chairman Humphrey says. "Consequently, Atlanta's city government is confronted with the question of where and how to get money to make up the deficit. It is obliged to be made. The only solution lies in the issuance of bonds or borrowing money to meet the needs of the city."

Councilman Wood is a member of the finance committee. He knows just as every other member of the committee knows that the city cannot make the needed improvements on its meager income of $1,000,000.

Candler Favors Issue. Alderman John S. Candler, chairman of the finance committee, says that Atlanta needs an issue of not less than $5,000,000. "The city needs $1,250,000 for buildings," Alderman Candler told the finance committee on Wednesday. "The city cannot hope to cope with the situation which confronts it on the meager income of $1,000,000."

For years Atlanta has secured many improvements on the so-called moral obligation bonds, but the constitutionality which says that no municipality shall incur debts in a given year greater than the amount of the revenue for that year, except where bonds are issued. This simply means, in substance, that the city of Atlanta cannot issue bonds for improvements as well as every other municipality in Georgia, must do business on a strictly cash basis.

NO EUGENIC BARS TO GETTING WEDDED IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Columbia, S. C., January 14.—The state senate today killed the so-called "eugenics bill" which was introduced by the South Carolina medical association, with a similar measure in force, was having no end of trouble in ascertaining who were married and who were not married.

J. K. ORR ATTENDS NEW BANK HEARING

"All Big Bankers Take It for Granted Atlanta Will Win," He Says After the Washington Meeting.

WANT LIMITS DEFINED.

Columbia, S. C., January 14.—Following a conference here today of bankers from Richmond and Columbia, the national organization committee, to define the limits of the proposed southern region. Bankers from both cities agreed to seek information as to the limits of the southern region.

By John Curdigan, Jr.

Washington, January 14.—(Special.) "All the big bankers in this section of the country take it for granted that Atlanta will be made headquarters for the federal reserve bank established in the southeast," said J. K. Orr, of Atlanta, after a hearing before the federal reserve board this morning.

Just as J. P. Morgan and other New York bankers expressed the opinion to the federal reserve board in New York, that Atlanta should have a bank, Washington bankers did so today. H. McKee, representative of the Clearing House association of the District, and A. C. Clapham, president of the Commercial National bank, said Atlanta should have a bank. They contended that Atlanta is a financial center, and, therefore, should be embraced in the federal reserve system.

The advantages of having one reserve bank at the metropolitan capital were pointed out by the bankers. The Atlanta reserve bank, they said, would be a financial center for the entire south. It would be a financial center for the entire south. It would be a financial center for the entire south.

Both Georgia senators and every member of the finance committee in the house except Representative Edwards, of the first district, are in favor of a bank being established in Atlanta.

As the day to be the prospects for Atlanta's gaining an overwhelming majority in the finance committee grows. The main problem before the committee now is to line up the support of these cities are at present in the race, but will probably withdraw when further developments show, as it is believed that Atlanta will undoubtedly get the choice of the organization committee.

J. K. Orr, chairman of the Atlanta finance committee, who was in Washington at the Wednesday's sitting of the organization committee, will attend the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce that every speaker representing Washington had indicated Atlanta for the center of a district composed of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

When the currency bill was under debate in the democratic senate caucus Senator Bacon and Senator Smith insisted that a sufficient number of reserve banks be authorized to give Atlanta a bank being established in Atlanta.

HE KILLS HIS WIFE, WOULD GO TO SLEEP, CHAUFFEUR DENIES WILL PROBABLY DIE

After Release From Confinement for Mental Derangement, Sam Norris Runs Amuck in Augusta.

CHAUFFEUR DENIES WILL PROBABLY DIE

Only Cause Given for Tragedy Is Probability That Norris Went Insane From Long Drinking Bout.

Augusta, Ga., January 14.—Recently released from confinement for mental derangement, and after drinking heavily for weeks, Sam J. Norris this afternoon shot and killed his wife and probably mortally wounded William Dennis, 17 years old, a chauffeur, who was at the Norris home preparing to take Mrs. Norris for a ride.

After shooting the two, Norris attempted to shoot himself, but failed. The first person to come into the room after the tragedy was enacted. He was covered by a revolver in the hands of Police Sergeant Jenkins, who disarmed and arrested him.

At the barracks Norris appeared unconscious that he had committed any crime. He went to sleep as soon as he was locked up.

Chauffeur May Recover. Dennis was hurried from the sidewalk, where he fell, to the City hospital, where an operation was performed about 10 o'clock.

Except young Dennis, there was no one witness to the tragedy. Just before going to the operating table, young Dennis made the following statement: "I was in Mr. Norris' house, where Mrs. Norris was preparing to take her out for a ride. I was in the car when she was shot. I saw her fall. I saw her fall. I saw her fall."

Brother of Chief Norris. Norris' wife was a sister of the late Chief Norris. He is a brother of the late Chief Norris. He is a brother of the late Chief Norris.

Garbed as a Bride, Woman Follows Striker's Coffin. Tacoma, Wash., January 14.—Women in flowing veils of mourning led a procession of 100 smaller strikers and sympathizers in a two-mile march today in a rain storm to the funeral of a woman who had been killed in a strike riot at the Tacoma shipyard.

Behind the casket marched a woman dressed in a black and white mourning gown with a white and black mourning gown. Behind the casket marched a woman dressed in a black and white mourning gown with a white and black mourning gown.

Col. C. R. Pendleton in Shadow of Death. Physicians Report Condition Desperate—Macon Editor Kept Alive by Stimulants.

Macon, Ga., January 14.—The condition of Colonel Charles R. Pendleton, editor of the Macon Telegraph, is less promising tonight. The veteran editor took a turn for the worse this afternoon and is said to be gradually failing.

After he had grown so weak between 10 and 11 o'clock tonight and the attending physicians had resorted to stimulants administered to him and shortly afterward was sleeping peacefully. It is only by means of stimulants that the patient is being kept alive.

Relatives from a distance arrived today. Joaquin Miller Left $41,998. Oakland, Cal., January 14.—The estate of Joaquin Miller, the poet who died last year, is valued at $41,998. It is said to be an enormous sum in the probate court here yesterday by Mrs. Abbie Miller, the widow.

Fight May Come Over "$30,000 Baby;" Mrs. Jacques Swift Wills Child to Sister

MRS. JACQUES BRADLEY SWIFT.

The death in Washington Wednesday of Jacques Bradley Swift, who came to Atlanta seven years ago as a chorus girl and married Charles Thomas Swift, son of Mrs. Lena Swift, one of the wealthiest women in Atlanta, may open the legal battle for the possession of a 3-year-old child, who was born to Mrs. Swift and her husband, who was a chorus girl, who was a chorus girl, who was a chorus girl.

Before her death, Mrs. Swift made her will, she left the baby to her sister and brother-in-law, of Washington, who are very devoted to the child. Jacques Bradley came to Atlanta as a chorus girl in the Willie Musical comedy company, which played at the old Casino theatre at Ponce de Leon park. After the Monday night opening at which she captivated young Swift by singing a popular song to him, events followed in rapid succession until the exclusive circles of Atlanta were one morning to read that Swift had followed the girl to Columbus and married her.

No Steps Taken Yet. "Mrs. Swift only died this morning," Howard Thompson said. "She was very devoted to the child. Jacques Bradley came to Atlanta as a chorus girl in the Willie Musical comedy company, which played at the old Casino theatre at Ponce de Leon park. After the Monday night opening at which she captivated young Swift by singing a popular song to him, events followed in rapid succession until the exclusive circles of Atlanta were one morning to read that Swift had followed the girl to Columbus and married her."

AS BANNER YEAR FOR FREAK LAWS 1913 IS CLASSED. Jacksonville, Fla., January 14.—That the year 1913 "noted out prominently as a banner year for freak legislation, both state and federal," was an idea which was applauded when the twenty-second annual convention of the National League of Commission Merchants met here today.

In several of the states, principally Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Colorado and Florida, drastic laws were introduced, said R. S. French, the business manager of the organization, in making his report.

Bills now pending in congress were mentioned in this address. They seek to regulate the commission merchant, to regulate the interstate traffic and transportation measures. All were cautiously handled in this address by French.

The convention was welcomed to the city by representatives of the local bodies and a representative of Governor Trammell. Senator Duncan, of Florida, also was present. He addressed the body on the matter of rural credits, with which he was connected in a tour of Europe last year.

Col. Howard Thompson in Serious Condition. Marshall for Northern District Is Suffering From Carbuncle. Colonel Howard Thompson, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia, is seriously ill at his home in Gainesville.

For nearly two weeks Marshall Thompson has been kept at his home because of a carbuncle on the back of his neck. Though painful at all times, Marshall Thompson, declining to call attention to the fact that he was ill, continued to work. A surgeon was needed, as the knife was necessary. Marshall Thompson's condition was connected with that of a widely-known Atlanta surgeon, who left Atlanta on the one train to Gainesville and performed an operation.

LIVES SNATCHED FROM VERY JAWS OF YAWNING SEA

Rescue Ships Reach Wrecked Royal Mail Steamer Cobequid and Take Off the Passengers.

WAVES WERE BREAKING OVER WRECKED VESSEL

Rescue One of Most Notable Ever Accomplished on Atlantic Coast—Cobequid Had Begun to Break Up.

Yarmouth, N. S., January 14.—Snatched from what was almost certain death, the 103 passengers and crew of the Royal Mail Packet Cobequid are snug tonight in Yarmouth harbor. Wireless appeals for assistance which she had first made thirty-six hours before were answered late today as the floating steamer was being packed to pieces on Trinity Rock, six miles off Port Maitland. The rescue will go down in shipping annals as one of the most notable ever accomplished on the Atlantic coast.

The Cobequid had begun to break up under the cannoning of the terrific seas that had been merciless from the time the vessel struck early yesterday. Quantities of cargo covered the waters as the lifeboats ranged alongside. The coastal steamers Westport and John I. Cann were first to get their small boats into the water and they were followed soon by boats of the steamer Happonahk. As the work of rescue progressed the seas subsided and a mishap marked the triumph over the waves.

Found Lifer on Ledger.

Captain McKinnon, of the Westport, found the liner on Trinity ledge at 1:20 o'clock this afternoon. At the time there was a high wind and rough sea. He took off in three lifeboat loads. Quantities of cargo covered the waters as the lifeboats ranged alongside. The coastal steamers Westport and John I. Cann were first to get their small boats into the water and they were followed soon by boats of the steamer Happonahk.

The captain and eleven men of the crew decided to remain on the ship until morning and the government steamer Landowens remained by them. The Cobequid's stern was not broken as first reported, according to the account given by Captain McKinnon. In fact, the after part was highest out of the water. The Cobequid was badly damaged.

The 103 persons on the Cobequid included 100 passengers and 3 crew members and an equal number in the second class. Mrs. W. C. Coller and her child were the first to get over the side. Then followed Misses Marguerite and Dorothy James, daughter of the late R. H. James, master of St. Georges, Bermuda, and a member of the family.

Shipwrecked One Carried Forward. Preparations had been made here to care for the shipwrecked ones and they were given every comfort the city afforded. Trinity Rock, on which the Cobequid was wrecked at 5 a. m. yesterday morning, is a pinnacle of granite rising abruptly from the sea halfway between this port and Bristol Island, where the steamer was first struck. The famous Lurcher shoal, which is indicated by a lightship, is the point where the ship struck.

The bay was swept by a typical winter blizzard as the Cobequid, bound for Yarmouth, was seen to feel her way toward St. John. The last of the 103 passengers were rescued by the ship. SOUTH AFRICA WARS WITH THE STRIKERS

Marital Law in Force Over Country—Strikers Defying Authorities From Behind Barricades at Johannesburg

Johannesburg, January 14.—The siege of the Federation of Trades Hall, where Secretary Bain, of the Federation of Trades, and a band of his supporters are defying the police from behind barricades, was the main feature of the strike drama today. After the hall had been attacked by police and detectives this morning without avail, great crowds gathered. When the police made several bayonet charges owing to the aggressive attitude of the people many were slightly injured.

With the final bayonet charge the police cleared the entire neighborhood and a cordon of police with fixed bayonets was thrown around the hall.

Safe as in jail. Bain came out in jail this evening and strolled nonchalantly about the cleared space in full view of police and re-entered the hall without any attempt being made to arrest him. The police commander explained that he had no intention of again attempting an assault on the hall, as he considered the 300 men in it as safe in jail. The besieged have obtained food from nearby restaurants.

A bomb explosion today at Benoni slightly injured three mounted troopers. Several strikers arrested by the police near the place were rescued by their comrades, but subsequently were rearrested.

The Transvaal railway authorities are maintaining a partial service and are attempting to insure an adequate supply of food and fuel. Bakers will not strike for the present, but they refuse to bake for the police, troops or special constables.

The miners continue to stop work as fast as their regular shifts end. The department of mines announced that it will keep the mines running and has no intention of sending natives home.

Completely isolated. Eventually Bain and his followers were completely isolated, being cut off from all supplies. A correspondent who passed the strikers' pickets by aid of a permit, found a remarkable scene outside the hall tonight. The 300 inmates were all fully armed. They expressed determination to resist any attempt to storm their stronghold.

The defenders are subsisting chiefly on fruit, quantities of which are stored in the hall. They also have some stale bread. Many of them wear trousers and only in trousers and boots. They stoutly asserted that the hall would not be taken until all their ammunition was exhausted and not a bar of soap or a stick was left in the place without could be heard the clang of arms and orders directed at the strikers away from the danger zone.

A detective named McBride was caught by the pickets approaching the doorway and had to flee for his life after being badly beaten.

Wounded Law Is Passed. Cape Town, Union of South Africa, January 14.—Proclamation of martial law in response to the declaration of a general strike in the Federation of Trades is regarded as making the issue clear on both sides of the barricades. The government has adopted a system of rigidly organized sympathetic strikes against the policy of retrenchment introduced by their employers—has been lost sight of in the great sympathetic labor war which has brought the trade and commerce of the colony to a standstill.

Drastic changes of the regulations which came into effect, with the proclamation of martial law created surprise. From last evening the use of such epithets as "scab" and "black-bait" prohibited under penalty of severe punishment, while any attempt to instigate workers was forbidden.

Newspapers are debared from publishing reports calculated to excite ill will between the disputants.

The battle raged in the nine areas, each controlled by an officer with absolute power as in time of war.

May Be Legal Fight OVER THE $30,000 BABY Continued From Page One.

Atlanta and for a time things moved happily. Report had it that the wealthy Mrs. Huntley had become reconciled to her daughter-in-law.

Two years later the Willie Musical Comedy company returned to play at the Casino. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Swift occupied a box at the first performance.

When the company left a week later it took Mrs. Swift with it. Some said that the indefinable something that goes with spotlights and applause had called and would not be refused. Jacques Bradley, for she had resumed her maiden name, declared that things had not been happy in her home life. For a short time young Swift seemed discontented and before long he had left the company and brought his wife back and things took on a rosy tinge again. Later the little girl was born and was named after her paternal grandfather.

Then came separation. Mrs. Swift returned to the stage and finally sent into vaudeville. She has probably played in every large town in Georgia.

Suit for divorce followed the second season and then the wife won for $10,000 alimony. Living desperately ill at the residence of Mrs. Frank Pearson on East Baker street, a few months ago the case was taken to court. The baby and other whose possession she had her husband, the latter backed by his mother, had been fighting.

The baby was called the "$30,000 baby" and another twist was given to the intensely dramatic story. The case got better, following the settlement and the legal possession of the little girl.

Her death came as a decided shock when it was announced from Washington Wednesday.

Willie Child to Stage. Washington, January 14.—(Special.) Mrs. Jacques Bradley Swift, the actress and former wife of Tom Swift, of Atlanta, died this morning at the Providence hospital here following an accident performed yesterday by Dr. Howard and Kelley, of Baltimore, the famous specialists. She never rallied from the shock.

Tonight her body lies at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wendell, at 224 Maryland avenue, Northeast. No funeral arrangements will be made until the day after tomorrow.

Present at the operation was Mrs. Frank Pearson, of Atlanta, who is in Washington with her family, a relative, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Pearson. She was urged by Mrs. Swift to come to her.

A prohibition of her approaching end came to this young girl, still in her teens, and she was told that she was troubled one. On Monday morning she was taken to the hospital in the clothes in which she wished to be buried.

Just as her greatest regret in death was leaving her baby, her greatest fear seemed to be that her husband would secure possession of the child. She left the child to her sister and brother-in-law, who are devoted to her and to raise her as their own, as they have no children.

Mr. Wendell is in the northeast section of Washington. He said if there was no objection from the family of little Jacques, he and his wife would adopt it and rear the child as his mother.

WILL DRAW UP REPORT AT MEETING APRIL

W. & A. Commission Reaches Many Conclusions, But Will Not Publish Yet.

With most of the things which they were appointed by the legislature to do determined, the members of the Western and Atlantic railroad commission returned from their second inspection trip to Chattanooga last night.

A meeting of the commission will be held here about the middle of April, the date to be fixed by the chair, at which time a rough draft of the commission's report to the legislature will be drawn up.

The commission held an executive session on the return trip from Chattanooga, but it was decided not to give out just at this time the results reached at the meeting.

Only two things may be forecast with almost every degree of certainty. One is that the new leases will be required to double-track the road. The other is that the present lease will be all probability, seek a renewal of the lease.

The trip to and from Chattanooga was made on a special train which was under the direct supervision of Major J. McCallum, superintendent of the road. Several stops were made en route at points which the members of the commission wished specially to investigate.

PLANNING TO RELIEVE CHICAGO UNEMPLOYED

Chicago, January 14.—A chain of retail groceries and coal markets, financed by the city and operated for the benefit of those who are out of work, but who still have some small savings of money, and, therefore, have not been reduced to the necessity of applying to the county agent for relief, will be started in a short time, according to the plans of city and county officials and the leaders of labor unions as told today.

An item of $25,000 to provide capital for the venture has been placed in the city's annual appropriation bill by the city's finance committee.

It is proposed to rent stores in different parts of the city. Food and fuel will be retailed at cost to the customers.

FOSTER AND THE GIRL ONCE MORE ARRESTED

Foster Says He Became Interested in Miss Bradley Because She Had Been Betrayed.

Mobile, Ala., January 14.—As Joel M. Foster and Delilah P. Bradley left the government building this afternoon on the charge of violating the Mann act they were arrested by city detectives on charges of adultery.

Foster waived examination before United States Commissioner Jones and was placed under a $5,000 bond to appear in court.

Miss Bradley's bond was set at $5,000. Foster's bond was set at $5,000. Foster's bond was set at $5,000.

Both were released on bonds of $500.

breakdown following the sensational developments of the day. She was turned over to her father in a federal court, but returned apparently to go back to New Jersey. From a small town in New Jersey, she said, "I'm still young, and for him not to marry me, I'm still young."

PROGRESSIVES RUN STATE RACE

Bull Moosers at the Anseley
Last Night Attack State and City Administrations.
Organization Begun.

A scathing broadside was fired into the conditions of state and municipal affairs at a meeting of the Bull Moosers at the Hotel Anseley last night, and plans were sent on foot for placing a full state and city ticket in the field. C. W. McClure presided at the meeting, and about forty or fifty progressives were present from Atlanta and about the state.

The most biting arraignment of municipal and state affairs was that of Bernard Butler.

"The political and governmental affairs of the state of Georgia are in a most deplorable condition," he said. "The state is the prey of the factional differences of the democratic party. Elections are not based upon their merit, nor from the standpoint of the good people of the state may derive from the result in Georgia, but purely upon partisan lines of a divided party. The result is that the legislature there exists such a condition that the measure of the state's good and need cannot be passed. The legislator does not stop to consider whether a measure is good or bad of the state, but whether his vote will be regarded with favor by the faction back home that he represents."

Here City Matters.

"In the city of Atlanta, the government is in a decayed state of ineptitude. It is a government that is run by the people, but a government by boards. We are a board-ridden city. 'Take for instance, the city's public schools are not to the city board of education. These schools belong not to the people of Atlanta, but to the city board of education. I have had experience along these lines and know the result."

"Atlanta needs a commission form of government. Why haven't we got it? Because those in power are afraid of it."

"Here is work at hand for the progressive party of Georgia and Atlanta. Let's get at it!"

State Ticket Advocated.

J. B. Cole, of Harrison, Ga., was also a warm advocate of the commission form of government. He declared that the bull moose party in his district would much stronger support the commission form of the presidential election.

"The people now here where they stand," he said. "At the last election in my district the progressive party should have been polled, where there were only 15. The reason is that the policekeepers of the democratic party intimidated the progressive voters to such a degree that they were afraid to vote in their precincts. Let them be disfranchised. They were told that if they voted in the precincts that they would be killed. They were told that if they voted in the precincts that they would be killed. We are now strong enough to vote as we please and ask the democratic party no odds."

Hugh Dorsey Present.

Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey was present. Mr. Dorsey explained that he was there at the request of Mr. McClure, and was attending only in the capacity of a listener. He said he had always been a democrat, and that he was not a member of the progressive party. He said that he was not a member of the progressive party, and that he was not a member of the progressive party.

In the meantime, Chairman McClure will go to Washington and confer with the progressive leaders with members of the national committee.

Tentative Organization.

The tentative organization committee was appointed as follows: Butler, Hamilton, of Rome; F. J. P. Corwell, mayor of Greenville; and C. J. B. Coleman and others from Harrison; several from Griffin and one or two others.

HIGH FREIGHT RATES MAKING LIFE HARD

Default of Interest on Debt
Part of Plan—Europe to Renew Pressure on United States to Intervene.

Washington, January 14.—Formal notice from the city of Mexico through the American charge today that the suspension of the payment of interest on the Mexican national debt covers a period of six months only, was not regarded here as conveying much encouragement to holders of Mexican bonds. State department officials do not doubt that if the revolution still is in progress at the end of six months, there will be another default.

Mutterings of discontent among European bondholders, it was suggested today, borebore a renewal of pressure from Europe upon the United States to take some decided action to safeguard the interests of their subjects in Mexico.

Trying to Force Intervention.

At one of the embassies it was said that it was out of the question for European powers, individually or collectively, to intervene in Mexico now that they virtually have renounced the United States the protection of those interests, but that it was assumed that the United States would take notice of the patent distress of these European bondholders.

Some administration officials believe General Huerta has deliberately left these matters in the hands of the United States, and that the United States is intervening if possible. In their view, the provisional president prefers to let the United States handle the situation as an intervenor and thereby to keep the United States out of the American people, rather than to surrender the reins of power to the United States.

Secretary Bryan conferred with President Wilson today. The discussion of the situation in Mexico. There were, however, no indications of any change in policy as a result of this conference.

Heavy Drop in Mexico Bonds.

Berlin, January 14.—Suspension of interest payments on the national debt by the Mexican government caused a heavy drop in Mexican bonds on the London market here today. Four per cent fell with a decline of 3-1/2 points.

Several bankers called to the Mexican government asking for an explanation, but received no reply. The newspapers express the opinion that the situation calls for intervention by the European powers. Nearly all the Mexican bonds are listed in Germany. The United States has a large holding of Mexican bonds in Germany. In June, but the Prussian military action prohibited it from being listed on the Berlin stock exchange. Germany dropped the negotiations.

United States Blamed.

Paris, January 14.—Mexican national bonds here today closed lower at 4 1/2 francs, fell on the boules today to 4 1/2 francs on the news of the suspension of interest payments by the Mexican government. The shares then dropped to 4 1/2 francs. There were no transactions in Mexican 4 per cent.

The suspension by Provisional President Huerta of the interest payments on the national debt, says Le Temps today, was the result of the Washington government's policy. The suspension of interest payments by the Mexican government, says Le Temps today, was the result of the Washington government's policy. The suspension of interest payments by the Mexican government, says Le Temps today, was the result of the Washington government's policy.

MACON CITIZENS FIGHT BOOST IN LIGHT RATES

R. R. Commission Hears Petition of Companies to Increase Light and Power Cost.

Representative citizens from Macon crowded the audience chamber of the railroad commission yesterday when the petition of the Macon Railway and Light company and the Georgia Public Service corporation to be allowed to increase the commercial rates charged for light and power was heard.

The companies are seeking to have the commission authorize an increase of 1 cent per kilowatt to 10 cents per kilowatt, claiming that they are at present losing money. The rates were lowered two years ago when there was a very keen competition between the two companies for business. At that time, the price of light jumps was lowered from $10 to $11 per year.

The Macon Railway and Light company acknowledges that it is losing money by its contract with the city, but will stick to the contract, as it has several years more to run.

The people of Macon are opposed to the increase of the price of light and power. Walter DePore and Wallace Miller, representing merchants who employ the companies to a severe examination in an effort to show that the price now charged is excessive.

Among those who appeared for the light companies were Judge W. H. Polk, president of the Macon Railway and Light company, and Judge Price Edgerton, president of the Georgia Public Service corporation.

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES URGED BY SHOEMAKERS

New York, Jan. 14.—Shoe manufacturers from all parts of the United States gathered here today at the annual convention of the National Shoe and Shoe Manufacturers' association, and adopted resolutions in favor of increased freight rates for the shoe industry.

S. Krider, of Pennsylvania, president in his annual report, characterized the shoe bill legislation as "ill-considered."

Mr. Krider urged the members to exert their influence upon their representatives in congress in favor of the enactment of a law forbidding the transportation of convict-made goods in interstate commerce.

DEFICIT IN PENSION FUND OF $35,380.84

Commissioner Lacked Report
Legislature Linked That of Giving Enough.

In his report, which went to the governor yesterday, Commissioner of Pensions J. W. Lindsey indicates that there will be a deficit of $35,380.84 in the pension fund this year. He estimates that there will be 14,000 pensioners this year. At $20 each there will be needed $280,000 to pay them. The actual fund made available by the legislature, including $18,619.16 brought forward from last year, is $1,086,619.16.

The commissioner's report shows that the number of pensioners brought forward from last year's rolls are 13,418, and $1,114,800 to pay them. The actual fund made available by the legislature, including $18,619.16 brought forward from last year, is $1,086,619.16.

The amount appropriated to pensions by the legislature this year is $1,078,880, as against $1,180,800 for the year 1913. The legislature has indicated that the number of pensioners would be very few additions to be made to the pension rolls, and that the total number would be rapidly diminished by the low, deep-cushioned seats added to the rolls for this year.

Shriners' First Annual Ball

Takes Place at Auditorium

With nearly 500 couples on the floor and two orchestras to deal out a continuous supply of music, the annual ball of the Atlanta Shriners will pull off their first annual ball in the Auditorium tonight.

It is predicted that the scene will be one of such magnificence and royal entertainment as has rarely been seen in the Auditorium. The ladies, of course, will be flattered in all the latter-day whims and fancies of fashion, while the Yachtmen, with their dress and oriental regalia—solemn in all his glory was not arrayed as one of them.

The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and continue. Meanwhile, refreshments will be served lavishly.

None other than Shriners will be admitted, and Noble Moreland Spear, grand guard of Yearab temple, will

Woodward-Chambers Wedding

Beautiful Social Event

The marriage of Miss Beattie Woodward and Mr. Julian Chambers was a beautiful event of last night, solemnized at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thorne Spear, on Avery Drive in Ansley Park.

The ceremony, at 8:30, was performed by Rev. H. M. Huggins, of the Methodist church, and was witnessed by relatives and close friends. The bride, Miss Woodward, was escorted by her brother, Mr. Thorne Spear, and the groom, Mr. Julian Chambers, was escorted by his sister, Mrs. Thorne Spear.

The ceremony took place in the living room, the bride and groom were seated on a sofa, and the guests were seated on chairs and benches.

The bride, entering with her father, Colonel Paul Woodward, was a winsome, lovely picture in her wedding gown, of pure white satin, with a train of white tulle and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies.

The groom, Mr. Julian Chambers, was a handsome young man, dressed in a tuxedo, with a white shirt and a black bow tie.

The reception committee at the door to see that no one without the proper credentials is admitted. Wherefore, it behooves each Shriners, who intends to trip the light fantastic tonight, to be clothed in his "wedding garment."

The reception committee is as follows:

Noble Forester Adair, potentate; Noble John A. Hynd, past potentate; Noble Walter F. Andrews, president; Noble W. O. Humpal, treasurer; Noble W. O. Humpal, secretary; Noble J. C. Ashford, first lieutenant; Noble J. C. Ashford, second lieutenant; Noble N. C. W. Ferguson, first sergeant; Noble H. H. Miller, quartermaster.

COTTON ADVANCED ON BETTER DEMAND

March Contracts Led the Advance—Market Closed Seven to Fourteen Points Higher.

New York, January 14.—Cotton advanced today on reports of better spot demand and a bullish interpretation of census figures on supply and distribution for the month of December. Houston with Wall Street and southern connections seemed to be the best buyers on the advance, which carried March contracts about 6 points above the level reached on the close of last Friday, and closed the market steady at a net gain of from 7 to 14 points.

A few overnight selling orders and somewhat disappointing cables were considered, responsible for a moderate decline of 1 point, but the market quickly turned, on coming news of moderate support from bullish sources. Leading spot buyers were reported to be increasing the purchases of cotton with buying March, which seemed to increase the purchases of cotton for the month of December, which was a good deal of the southern buying being made for recent export of hedges against sales of spot cotton to spinners or exporters in the south.

Reports were received from southern points indicating a better spot demand and in several cases higher grades were mentioned in that connection. This combined with the news of a full month of consumption during December, seemed to create a considerable impression on settlement.

Best prices were reached in the late trading, when present crop deliveries ran to 15 points and the market was showing relative firmness. The close was 2 or 3 points higher than last Friday, and the market was showing relative firmness. The close was 2 or 3 points higher than last Friday, and the market was showing relative firmness.

SCORES OF BODIES WAVED THE WAVE

Total Number of Dead as Result of Japanese Disaster
May Never Be Known.
All Americans Safe.

Tokio, Japan, January 14.—Official reports tonight of the disaster in southern Japan brought out the following general features:

The small island of Sakura is covered with a layer of lava and ash in places several feet deep. Beneath this lie many corpses whose number will probably never be known.

Any estimate of the dead must include a large number of refugees who were drowned while trying to swim from Sakura to the city of Kagoshima. Kagoshima, last week a prosperous town of 60,000, is in ruins. Even stone buildings collapsed under the weight of the hot ash.

The eruption of Sakura-jima is gradually subsiding. A heavy rainfall is clearing the atmosphere and thereby assisting the work of relief.

The entire island of Kinoshita, an area of 3,400 square miles is covered with volcanic ash in varying depth.

Prominent scientists and the authorities tonight that the worst is over. Over 1,000 refugees have arrived and the authorities are faced with the difficulty of housing and feeding them.

The city of Tokyo and surrounding territory, although the volcanic eruption has been reported, has been spared for the past 24 hours. The city of Tokyo and surrounding territory, although the volcanic eruption has been reported, has been spared for the past 24 hours.

All Americans who were in the vicinity are safe. Information to this effect has been received here from Captain Macdonald, the American consul at Nagasaki, who telegraphed as follows:

"All Americans in Kagoshima, including the American missionaries stationed at Kagoshima, are safe."

Miss L. Allen Finley, Methodist Episcopal church, New York, Miss Harriet M. Lansing, Miss Jean Northcott, headmistress of the American School, New York, and Miss Harriet M. Lansing, headmistress of the American School, New York, are safe.

Sakura-jima, at the height of its eruption, is pictured in reports as a terrifying mountain of fire. The air filled around it with ash and smoke. The police and soldiers of Kagoshima, upon after the disturbance began, made many rescues from the island of Sakura.

The people at first did not seem to realize the danger and were slow in trying to escape. It is feared that many were killed before reaching the shore. Thousands, pursued by a rain of fiery stones, took to the beach half submerged in water and gasping for air. A small steamer, which had been in the bay, was also in danger.

Wilson Cables Synopses.
Washington, January 14.—An exchange of cables between President Wilson and the emperor of Japan over the Sakura-jima disaster was made public today. President Wilson's message sent last night, was as follows:

"To His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan: Having learned that a disaster has visited your country through volcanic and tidal waves, I beg to assure you my deepest sympathy and that of the American people."

"Signed, 'WOODROW WILSON.'"

President Wilson's message, having been received today from Emperor Yoshihito.

"Pray accept my sincerest thanks for the sympathetic interest shown by you, your self and American people for the terrible disaster."

A. B. & A. TO ENTER TERMINAL STATION

Beginning February 1, All
Passenger Trains of Road
Will Use Other Depot.

The change of stations is now being made by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic and West Point, the Central of Georgia and the Southern Railway. The Georgia, the Louisville and Nashville, the Seaboard Air Line and the Western and Atlantic will continue to use the union station. With the change of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic to the Terminal, each station will have four different stations entering it.

In explanation of the change, W. V. Croxson, general passenger agent, said yesterday:

"The change of stations is being made by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic on account of the Terminal station being nearer and more accessible to its own yard and terminal. The Atlanta and Atlantic and all the lines using the union passenger station have been placed in harmony, and the change will be made with a feeling of reluctance on this account."

TO BE AT THE DECLARATION OF FIRE CHIEF'S LOW WATER PRESSURE CHARGES ANSWERED BY W. LODGE SMITH.

J. R. Smith, owner of the burned building of the Cotton States Belling and Supply company, arrived in Atlanta from south Georgia late yesterday and stated that he will build a duplicate of the destroyed structure at once.

Both buildings, he said, were fully covered by insurance. Just how long it will take to get the building under way or what will be the cost of reconstruction, I cannot say now.

Both the Avery and Cotton States concerns will immediately take up temporary headquarters and renew operations. Both buildings are complete.
